Hi Kaitlin,

I don't think the technical papers are available. We destroy case files after 15 years. I still have my notes on the case, but because of an ongoing investigation I don't have access to the Lab right now. If you need copies of my notes, I will check with my supervisors to get them from the Lab.

Who was the original chemist?

The Amherst chemist have been temporarily relocated to Sudbury. We may have access to those files.

Good Morning,

ADA Kwon was inquiring about possibly having drugs tested from a Lowell trafficking case that was originally tested at the DPH lab in Amherst. She said since those chemists/records are no longer available, the only way to go forward on the case would be to have the drugs re-tested. Would this be possible? Please let me know.

Thank you,
